

Many turned out at the Cradle of Aviation Museum

Moms interested in upcoming summer events

Local Kids and Families at The Cradle of Aviation 2012...

At the Cradle of Aviation, March 31 2012, the Edgewood Flyers, and others displayed to museum visitors the fun, and constructive pastime of model aviation.

The Edgewood Flyers also handed out DEC materials for their efforts over the many years at the Oak Brush Plains Preserve in conjunction with the Edgewood Flyers. Many were interested in the Summer Camps the DEC had to offer. We had a huge turnout.

The EWF promoted our upcoming events for 2012. We also, had demos for families to try out models indoor as well as outdoor.

We also promoted local small businesses and agencies to keep these venues alive and well.

We did a walk through the museum with the kids and showed the rich history Long Island has to offer in aviation. It was not only educational but fun as well.

Distributed materials for the EWF as well as for DEC

Many kids stopped by with a passion in their eyes